

St. John Berchmans Camp Newsletter

Guten Tag, Parents & Campers!

July 16th, 2010

We've had a super scrumdidlyumptious week at camp this week (not to mention, super-sweaty!) In science class we put our gumshoes on and searched for clues all over the school and church grounds to solve Ms. Jenny's scavenger hunt. Monday's faux Halloween was a volcanic BLAST (thanks to lil' Logan's costume)! We paraded around, showing off our alter-egos and trick-or-treated. Father Wayne guided us on a tour through the beautiful church on Wednesday (Thank you Father Wayne!). We got really campy in the front yard this week with tents and roasted s'mores. Ms. Catherine told us all about bear safety and Rachel showed us how to make 'Gods eyes' with sticks and yarn. We all got bellies full 'o jelly after our mouth-puckering visit to the Jelly Belly Factory. Friday was movie day and we got old school and watched Willy Wonka. Each class took a gander at beans in a jar and guessed the amount. The WINNING guesses are: Mascis L., Brayden M., Manuel C., Emma M., & Gabe G. Congratulations to all who get to take home the jars of Jelly Beans!

Just a few reminders for NEXT WEEK: The field trip will be on Wednesday (Not Thursday) to Wilmette Beach where we will eat lunch there and return around 2:00. Don't Forget Monday is CRAZY FIRE day and fire safety day.

Auf Wiedersehen!
